MEADVILLE NEWS.

Daily correspondence of the Cleveland Luanes. MEADVILLE, August 10, 1865. so many reports regarding the minor de tails of the and railway accident of last night have been affout, that one wonders at the inventive faculty which started some of them. The accident was a sail one, but not as bad as was at first represented. The engineer and fireman were brothers, who had been upon the road together for a long while. They had, I understand, recently secured a pleasant home in this borough and life looked bright before them. But as in life they had been companions, so in teath they were not divided. They both died of their injuries in a short time after the explosion. The newsboy, Noble, was so seriously injured that he cannot live, if indeed, he is living at this time. The bodies of the two Cooksons were enclosed in offins at Jamestown and sent to Port Jervis, N. Y., to-day, that being their former place

This is the first serious accident that has over occurred upon this railway, save one at Salamanca a year or two since, where, as in this case, the engineer, fireman and newsboy were the only ones seriously injured. The road carried, in the year 1864 317,272 passengers eastward, and 314,097 westward, over a total distance of 24:351,246 miles, receiving therefor $767 250 65. New York, August 13.
The Herald's Richmond correspondent The reports in Northern papers braring pon the movements of Gen. R. E. Lee re wholly erroneous. Six weeks or more go Gen. Lee left this city and proceeded the village of Cartersville, Buckingham ounty, in this State, on the south side of James River, 40 miles from Richmond, where he is living in the utmost seclusion, scarcely answering the million of letters addressed to him. He resides in a small, but not inelegant cettage, the property of Mrs. Cox, adjacent and belonging to which are some four acres of land, which he finds recreation in cultivating. Gen. Les is unusually reticient in his seclusion, and it ment the latter part of the coming week, whether his successor be appointed or not. The new appointment has been in limbo for several weeks, and apparently is no nearer consummation than it was immeditely following Mr. Holloway's resignation. Brigadier General Van Wick, commanding the military district of Western South Carolina, has issued a general order from Newbury, in that State, dated July 15, 1865, which was called out by the perpetration of continued violent abuse of the freedmen. The offenders in the more violent of these outrages are now in jail, awaiting trial. The parties arrested claim a clause in their contracts with the ill-treated blacks which permitted the apication of the lash in certain cases and which Lad been introduced with the perission of the local commandant, and was regarded by them as full permission to inct punishment on their employees as to them seemed proper.

The commandant in question is, by the terms of the above order, severely rebuked. and is to be signally punished for permitto the principles upon which the freed-men's system is founded. The misguided and stubborn planters who are attempting to embarrass the successful application of the negro labor system, are warned by the order, that their policy is short sighted and self-injurious, and the objectionable clause for the punishment of freedmen is rescinded om all centracis into which it has been

The Herald's Matamoras correspondent gives further particulars and an aversion of the late attack by Cortinas on the Imperial army train between that place and Monterey, the account of which from the journals of the former town we have heretofore lished. It was nothing like so formidpublished. At was nothing like so formid-able affair as the latter represented it. The proportion of blacks who visit the Executive Mansion to see the President on ousiness is not more than one in five hundred as compared with the whites.

Among the is est arrivals of Southerners in quest of pardon is that of Fayette Mc-Mullen of Virghus. He was one of the figreest secessionists, but now claims some merit for belonging to the reactionary party against Jeff Davis. McMullen was formerly a member of the United States House of Bepresentatives, and was after wards in the rebel Congress. The Postmaster General is gradually extending the postal service through the Richmond to Petersburg and from there to

WANT TO COME BACK. NEW YORK, August 13, The Times' Raleigh correspondent says the desire is nearly unanimous to be called back, and it is generally manifested every where to resume the old custom of before the war. A great deal of loyalty is talked of here. The people are sick and tired of the privation entailed by the blockade and other concomitants of war, and will do anything to remove the obstacles now in the way.

The latent love for the Union which exhibited itself in opposition to Davis' usurpation by directions, feeding Federal prisoners and in a hundred other ways during the war is now untrameled and shows itself in a manner satisfactory to any conservative observer. A great majority of the inhabitants of bound for Baltimore, with troops, has also the State entertain these sentiments, but James Mitchell, son of John Michell, there is, and no one can deny it, a clique of conquered but not subdued Japanese, who | which exceeds the bank surplus.

THE PRESIDENT'S PRIVATE SECRETARY. The Times' Washington special says: It has been circulated in the West that E. H. East, a prominent lawyer of Tennessee, was about to proceed to Washington for the purpose of accepting the post of Confilential Secretary to President Johnson. Mr. East was asked by the President to assume those relations with him, and would have done so but for the sacrifice it would entail of a large and lucrative practice. He has not yet positively declined, but it is understood that the President, in view of the circumstances, will not insist on the appointment. It was not designed, had he came here, to interfere with the duties now performed by the President's Private Secretary, Col. Browning. Ford's Theater has been completely metamorphosed to-day. The stage box in which the President was assassinated has archives.

Special Report.

New York, August 12. The stock market exhibited a weak ne to-day. The continued high rate of interest and the near approach to actual stringency produces a slight nervousness among the holders and there is more disis not sufficiently developed to produce any important short movement. With so much strength in the Bull clique there is too much danger of corners for the Bears to venture out boldly. The miscellaneous list was more active but lower and a second

Sellers would have had decided advantage were it not for favorable advices of the England and Continental hop crop.

STRAMERS SAILED. New York, August 12. Five steamers left New York to-day for Europa. They are the Erin and City of New York, for Liverpool; Delivna, for London; Hibernian, for Giasgow, the New York, for Southampton and Brenis. The steamer Hibernian also sails for Liverpool to-day from Quebec.

WADE HAMPTON. The Express says it learns from good suthority that Wade Hampton is now hiring every able-bodied negro who was once his slave. He pays men $10 per month and women $8, furnishing bouses, but not board, for each. He expects to raisethirty bales of cotton, where before he raised from 1300 to 1,500 bales. The small crop expected grows out of the fact that it is only since the close of the war that he has been able to resume work on his plantation. Wade Hampton declares his intention to give free negro labor a fair trial, and that he shall hope for the best results from the wages system until it fails. He has already suaded many of his countrymen from the folly of emigration.

LESTURNED. The Times' Washington special says that Colonel J. H. Simpson, United States Engineer and Hon. Springer Hartbough, Government Director, have just returned from Omaha in Nebraska, under instructions from the War Department and Secretary of the Interior. They will, at an early day, make a report to the respective departments as to the character and condi-splendid new buildings attached to the public printing office are completed and will soon be in operation with additional presses which will print books and documents, now delayed as far back as 1863, in time for the meeting of Congress. The delay was occasioned by erroneous work done for the Treasury were owned by J. T. Whitney & Co., of Detroit.

REDUCTION. Yesterday a further reduction was made in the number of men employed in the Armory Department of Washington, about four hundred men being discharged. A few months since there were nearly three hundred men in this Departmen but there are now less than fifty. A large quanty of Springfield rifled munkets had to cleaned and repaired and sent to Springfield, but there is now only a comparatively small quantity of arms to be fitted up and repaired which is probably the cause of this reduction

The World's special says: The trial of Capt. Wertz, the commandant of the Andersonville prison, will commence on Tuesday next. The evidence for the Gotrament will be lengthy. The Herald's Washington special says: The Department of State has received inormation from John G Nicolay, the recently annointed United States Consul to Paris, formerly the private secretary of the late President Luccoln, that he has arrived at his post and entered upon the discharge of his duties.

RECEPTION BY THE PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, August 12. The President to-day had a general resption, admitting without distinction, all sitors who had business with him. He appears to be in good health, though exceedingly debilitated by the rush upon his attention. Much of his time has been consumed by the presentation of matters comparatively insignificant, but he seems to bear the infliction with philosophical indifference.

FRESH ARRIVALL. The negro population of Washington continues to be increased by arrivals from Maryland. Entire families of new comers carrying on their persons all their worldly wealth, are frequently seen in the streets.

ESTABLISHING SCHOOLS. The Freedmen's Bureau has commenced the work of establishing free schools for colored childree. The Campbell Hospital, which is now being divided into rooms, is sufficiently large to accommodate thousands of such people.

DISTRUSTRUCL Old resident negroes look on the influx with disapprobation and jealousy, fearing that the demand for employment may have the effect of reducing the present wages

NASHVILLE, August 12. The Press and Times of this morning contain the proclamation of Gov. Brownlow proposing certain questions to the Clerks of County Courts and Sheriffs, with the view of ascertaining whether or not the elective franchise act was fully complied with in conducting the recent elec-
